

Upcoming Webinar on Assistive Technology

Wednesday, March 5, 2008 ♦ 2:00–3:30 PM ET
"Prepping for an IEP Meeting: What you need to know about AT consideration and AT implementation"

Looking for ways to successfully implement assistive technology into the IEP? Look no further! Attend this Webinar and learn about two essential tools to help prepare IEP Team members in considering assistive technology to meet educational goals. Presented by leading assistive technology experts:
Dr. Margaret Bausch, University of Kentucky and
Dr. Tara Jeffs, East Carolina University

Webinar participants receive these AT products developed by the Technology and Media Division (TAM) of the Council for Exceptional Children:

- ▶ Assistive Technology Planner for Families: From IEP Consideration to Classroom Implementation. Based on research conducted by Margaret Bausch, Melinda Ault, and Ted Hasselbring at the National Assistive Technology Research Institute, this planner contains tools that IEP teams can use when considering, selecting, and implementing assistive technology for a student.
- ▶ TAM Technology Fan: AT Considerations for Academic Success. This handy fan provides endless ideas and examples of assistive technology with the academic content areas. Developed by national experts—Tara Jeffs, Penny Reid, Cynthia Warger, and Joy Zabala—the TAM Technology Fan provides IEP team members and practitioners with a sampling of assistive technology devices that may help a student succeed academically.
